Using AI to Deliver Compassionate Chronic Care

Entrepreneur Julia Hu founded Lark Health with the belief that conversational AI technology can transform the way we prevent and manage chronic diseases. Inspired by her own experience managing a chronic condition, Julia saw an enormous opportunity for technology to fill many of the gaps left by a health care system designed around acute, episodic care. After spending nearly a decade in research and development and $100M in R&D, Julia and her team developed the conversational AI-powered Lark platform with the goal of putting a virtual health coach in everyone's pocket.
